

November 2022

GivingTuesday Is November 29!

Dr. Lenovo:

On behalf of the AANA Education Foundation, my heartfelt thanks goes out to you for your previous support. Contributions from members like you have had a far-reaching impact on Orthopaedic Surgeons worldwide.

In the last year alone, the Foundation has been able to achieve so much: We've awarded $55,000 in educational scholarships so that deserving Orthopaedic Surgeons of all career stages can attend state-of-the-art opportunities such as an AANA Lab Course or the AANA Annual Meeting.

$25,000 went toward the 2022 AANA Traveling Fellowship, a program that offers selected Orthopaedic Surgeons the opportunity of a lifetime to travel to different education sites to interact with and learn from leading surgeons in the arthroscopy craft.

$10,000 was used to support the AANA Health Policy Fellowship, a program that provides the recipient with exposure to important advocacy efforts for Orthopaedic Surgeons.

Since 2007, the Foundation has been using your valuable donations to help make the achievements listed above (and more!) possible.

Donate today or on GivingTuesday to ensure that the benefits provided by the Foundation continue today, tomorrow and future.

Sincerely,

Terri Bruce, CFRE

THANK YOU DEPUY SYNTHES!

Our heartfelt thanks goes to DePuy Synthes, The Orthopaedics Company of Johnson & Johnson. AANA held its second Future Scope: Introduction to Arthroscopy and Orthopaedics course in the series earlier this month at the Johnson & Johnson Institute in Raynham, Massachusetts. The course introduces underrepresented medical students to the fundamentals of orthopaedic practice, professional opportunities within the field and insights into an orthopaedic career. This course would not be made possible without the generous support from DePuy, and the AANA Education Foundation expresses its heartfelt appreciation and gratitude!

"My viewpoint on orthopaedics as a specialty has changed as a result of this course. I went in knowing very little about the field and types of procedures involved in orthopaedic surgery, and left with a great orientation of the field, the types of practice and how surgeries can be aided by minimally invasive and automated devices." – AANA Future Scope Course Attendee
